IN VOTING FOR PRESIDENT.

The Standard has been requested to inform the public how to vote for President, as many do not know how to proceed.

Those who desire to vote a straight ticket can do so by simply pulling their party lever and walking out, but to vote a split ticket it is necessary to turn all the pointers for the electors who are supporting your presidential candidate. In voting for a president you really vote for the electors and they, in turn, vote for the president.

HURRAH FOR OLD GLORY.

From the department of commerce, comes the following announcement:

Washington, Nov. 6.—Peru is the only country of this hemisphere where American hardware outsells all its rivals, the department of commerce announced today as the result of an investigation of hardware markets Peru's total imports of hardware in the normal year 1915 were valued at $2,617,007 of which the United States furnished $1,040,749. The nearest rivals were England $852,357, and Germany $479,964. Since the European war started American manufacturers have had a decided advantage over their old competitors, although Peru's consumptive capacity has been curtailed.

The forward march of our manufacturers is one of the great outstanding triumphs of American genius. Though this country pays higher wages than any other country, the efficiency of our labor, combined with organization and nearness to raw materials, makes possible the under-selling in many lines of countries like Germany and England. Even prior to the war, American goods of almost every description were going out to all parts of the world, competing in foreign markets with the goods of all nations and building up a foreign trade which was alarming the old world.

Americans naturally are proud of their country and its achievements, and over nothing are they more entitled to exult than this great victory in the pursuits of peace.

American genius is making America invincible.

Up with the Stars and Stripes; let Old Glory proclaim this country's confidence in itself!

WHERE A SEWER SHOULD BE CONSTRUCTED.

Writing to the Standard from her home on Seventeenth street, a woman taxpayer sends the Standard the following complaint:

Editor Standard:—Property owners north of Ogden river bridge have a question to ask the city commissioners in regards to the sewers which we have not. At different times, during the last several years, petitions have been circulated asking the City Fathers to create a sewer district in this part of the city. In each instance a large majority of taxpayers have signed the same, and each time the petition has been ignored. The first of these papers dates back to the time our city was controlled by mayor and councilmen, when they promised the voters to create a sewer district in this vicinity. Why did they not fulfill their promise? This district, more than any other, absolutely needs a sewer system and proper drainage on account of high water conditions during the spring season.

We cannot enjoy the comforts of a good cellar or basement in our homes owing to the cess pools which often overflow, causing great discomfort and unhealthy conditions.

After repeated inquiries as to their reasons for not having fulfilled their promises, the city officials tell us that certain conditions make it impossible to find a successful solution to the drainage problem. The latter is one our city engineer should be able to solve, as he is generally conceded to be equal to any occasion. Surely our beautiful Ogden is not to be retarded by objects insurmountable?

Now we are asking the commissioners how they can proceed to order a man to pay a fine of $100 or serve as many days in jail, as in the case of the city vs. A. Burgl (Standard of September 30) for not complying with the law and connecting with the sewer, when he claimed his financial circumstances forbade, while at the same time there are property owners ready and willing, lo! these many years, to connect with a sewer, if they only had one with which to connect.

It is a poor rule that will not work both ways. Therefore, why not proceed to sue the city for a sewer. The writer might also add that these aforementioned promises are always made just prior to an election of city officials, and, in fact, are made an issue by the "vote getters" visiting our district, then immediately after the taking of the oath of office, we are forgotten. Should not a man's word be as good as his oath?

Again, I ask, in the name of the residents, where, oh, where is our sewer system?

Our city commissioners have been going over the district, and, we understand, have plans for a sewer system. They should speed up a little on this work.

THEODORE IN THE CAMPAIGN

Theodore Roosevelt, a day last week, said he objected to a campaign made on the issue of the full stomach.

Theodore forgets that one entire campaign was based on the full dinner pail. But Theodore has a short memory when memory does not serve his purpose.

We do not think Roosevelt's speeches in this campaign have been of any benefit to Charles E. Hughes.

CHRISTMAS AND THE COLLEGE

Our Agricultural college is invading the homes of Utah, carrying messages of helpfulness and cheer.

What a wonderful change from the colleges of twenty years ago, which were as far from contact with the people generally as a seclusive set could make them.

Today a letter has been received from the Logan college offering suggestions for a community celebration of Christmas. On two occasions Ogden has had its public Christmas tree on City Hall square, and each event has been a source of much pleasure to thousands who otherwise might have been denied the sight of a beautifully lighted and decorated tree.

The college suggestions for a community celebration follow:

1. Some church, school or club organization must take the lead and get all the others to co-operate.
2. The community tree should be set up in the most prominent place in the town at least a week before Christmas.
3. Christmas eve program:
  - a. Lighting of tree and community singing of Christmas hymns and carols around it. (Get "Ten Traditional Carols," published by O. Ditson.)
  - b. Program in large hall of readings, songs, tableaux, and play. (A good quartet is "O Holy Night," by Adolphe Adam, published by O. Ditson. This is perhaps the most famous Christmas anthem ever written.)

c. The Christmas parade of Santa Claus in a sleigh drawn by white horses and followed by his young men pages goes to leave gifts at the houses of the poor. Red fire along route.

d. Put a light in every window of the house while the "Waits" or groups of singers go from house to house singing carols. They should sing especially before the houses of the aged and those where children have recently been born.

4. Preparations:

a. Put a live wire man or woman at the head of each committee and let him or her select his helper.

b. Have all school children write letters at least a month before Christmas and have these sent to a Christmas gift committee who will try to see that these well blest with this world's goods shall help those less fortunately situated.

c. Rehearsal choruses for outdoor and indoor singing.

d. Helpful books:

"Christmas," by Robert H. Schauflier in American Holiday Series.

"Christmas Sketches," in Washington Irving's "Sketches."

"The Christmas Banquet," by Nathaniel Hawthorne in "Moses From an Old Manse."

"The Gifts of the Magi," by O. Henry.

"Christmas Present for a Lady," by Myra Kelly in "Little Citizens."

First two chapters in the Gospel of St. Luke.

"Christmas Books," by Wm. M. Thackeray.

"Christmas Candles," by Elsie Hobbart Carter, published by Holt. These are good little plays for children.

It is suggested that school teachers and children co-operate in writing a Christmas play, using as material some bible incident, Christmas legend or story or some Christmas experience of the teacher or scholars.

HOW TO VOTE ON AMENDMENTS

When you face the voting machines tomorrow do not forget to look at the top row where the questions on the constitutional amendments are to be found.

Question No. 1 should be voted Yes, because it provides for interest on all public funds deposited in banks.

Question No. 2 should be voted No, because it calls for the throwing down of the barriers on the bonding of state, county and city. It provides for a higher tax on mines, but the bonding feature is so vicious as to make the whole amendment undesirable.

Do not get confused, but vote "Yes" on No. 1 and "No" on No. 2.

To vote no, turn the lever on pointer to the word "No." To cast a vote yes, turn the pointer to "Yes."

FOR THOSE WHO WILL NOT BE ELECTED

While the big white flakes of snow were falling this morning more than one ambitious candidate must have asked himself the question:

"Is this snow for me?"

One-half of all the candidates must go down to defeat and not a few will be snowed under.

How sad the lot of the defeated; how delightful the outlook for the victorious!

But is it not true that too often an election to office is not a harbinger of happiness? A very big percentage of the elected fail to make good, and those who are really successful learn to lean so heavily on the public crib as to lose their self-reliance and, in a few years, they become chronic office seekers.

The average man who keeps out of political office escapes pitfalls not to be encountered in the ordinary walks of life.

Those running for office who fail on tomorrow can say to themselves: "It might have been worse."

Here is your Opportunity!

to secure a Range you know is right because you see it built.

Every day this week we will build one complete Monarch Range from the raw material to the finished masterpiece.

This unusual and original demonstration takes place before your very eyes right in our show windows.

When you have seen this operation from beginning to end you will know just how a Monarch is built—why it excels. You will know it inside and outside and you will be competent to judge for yourself all other ranges in the light of superior Monarch construction. We are doing the unusual—the original—so that you may see for yourself just why the Monarch represents the highest type of range construction.

You can even purchase an Ogden-made Monarch if you prefer it to the regular factory range, but every Monarch is like every other Monarch—the best that brains, good material, and skilled labor can produce.

Terms on Any Monarch
$5.00 down and
$1.00 per week

Do Not Fail To Attend This Unusual Factory Demonstration

FREE ALL THIS WEEK An $8.00 Pure Aluminum Cooking Set with every Monarch Range—The Monarch factory makes this special offer to you: With every Monarch Range purchased this week, they give you absolutely free, this complete set of aluminum cooking utensils. This offer is worth real money to you, and is positively good only during our Range-building Demonstration—all this week.

If not ready for your range now, a small deposit will hold your range and secure one of these sets for you.

A Denial That Denies

Over our signatures we deny categorically and specifically that there is any candidate on the Republican Ticket who will not stand squarely on our platform.

The Democrats are conducting a campaign of eleventh hour slanders.

We will not descend to that kind of campaign.

You can trust our candidates. Their past lives and records guarantee performance.

Do not believe campaign lies.

Do not be misled.

The Democrats say you cannot vote as you wish on the machine, but to vote on any candidate on the ticket you must vote for the whole of it. This is untrue and we challenge the statement. You can vote as you please, either on the ballot or on the machine.

Weber County Republican Committee.

To the Voters of Ogden City

Many voters have made inquiries of my office as to whether or not a voter can cast his ballot on the machine for Wilson Electors and the balance of the Republican Ticket by pulling the Republican lever and, vice versa, I, therefore, make this statement to the voters:

Any voter can, by pulling the Republican lever, lifting up the pointer over the Hughes electors and pulling down the pointers over the Wilson electors, vote for the Wilson electors and the balance of the Republican ticket. Likewise any voter can, by pulling the Democratic lever, lifting up the pointers over the Wilson electors and pulling down the pointers over the Hughes electors, vote for the Hughes electors and the balance of the Democratic ticket. The same rule applies to all other candidates on any ticket.

The statement that there is anything wrong with the voting machines is false. An expert has examined them and found that they work as accurately as an adding machine.

Voters, you can vote as you please on the machine.

Insist on your right to do so. The judges, under the law, are required to assist you, should you so desire. Take your time and vote as your conscience dictates. Don't be misled by instructions given by a worker for any political party contrary to what is contained herein or in the regular instructions published in the newspapers.

The Joke of the Campaign

Simon Bamberger, the recently converted owner of the Lagoon Resort, with its saloon attachment, is the Simon-pure Prohibitionist.

Nephi L. Morris, president of the Salt Lake Stake, who has made political enemies during his eight years' fight for prohibition, is in league with the underworld, brewers, and liquor interests.

So say the Democratic Scarehead Writers.

VOTERS: Do you believe it? Is not the desperate straits to which the Democratic party has been reduced fully apparent in this joke they seek to perpetrate?

Think it over and vote your answer on Nov. 7
